

The Press Conference.

The Columbia Guardian, and others of the State press have suggested that all of the editors of the State, opposed to the usurpation and corruption of our State government, meet together in conference at Columbia on the 16th inst.

The Charleston News, in advocating the suggestion, and urging upon all papers of the State to be represented at this meeting, does not understand that the object of the meeting is to put forth a platform or any public declaration of policy, but to bring the anti-radical editors together "so that they may interchange views and opinions and make themselves acquainted by conferring together, with the feeling and desire of every section of the State."

With this we entirely concur, and we earnestly hope that all of our contemporaries throughout the State will meet together in conference. Let us see what are the chances for us, in the grand effort of patriotism, that as a people we are about to make. Let us hear whether the people of South Carolina are ready to unite upon a course of action that has buried past delusions, that admits facts that are accomplished, and that has a bright ray of hope for our future.

Let the body of men who band themselves together for the redemption of their State, meet upon a platform that knows no distinction of class, caste or color; which recognizes white man, and blackman, as equally CITIZEN!

Let us make one more rally, one more effort, and let us make it, upon a basis, and by means that are practical, sensible and that have a chance of success!

We trust that the Press of the State will meet at this Conference, and that they will agree upon a course to be presented, and advocated by them to the people, which will unite all the honest citizens of South Carolina, white and black, in an effort to secure the government into the hands of the honest and the worthy, white them upon this sensible admission of what is the reality of our situation, and which is the only effort that can be successful!

Signs of Progress.

The prompt action of the House of Representatives in the United States Congress, in summarily summoning to its bar for trial, its corrupt members speaks bright hopes, that honesty is not entirely trampled in the dust of oblivion.

We hope that Whittemore's party will promptly repudiate this its exposed, corrupt member. Never mind how good a Republican he may be, however far he may go in promises and in associating cheek by jowl, hob and nob, with the colored people, let them not harbor one whom the world knows to be totally unworthy of the association of honest men. Let the promptings of an honest heart, be heard and let the voters of his congressional district repudiate him, and hoot him from their midst.

Another sign of promise is the defeat of Butler's Georgia Bill, which would go to show that crushed as is our sister State "the Poland of America," as she has been called, there is a term to her "duration" and her humiliation. The defeat of this bill and the adoption of Benjamin's amendment, will discontinue the terms of office of Bullock and the Legislature of that State, and give the people the liberty and right of a ballot in 1870.

The Census.

The Census returns just published show the following facts:

In eight Counties of the State, among which is Orangeburg, both races have increased, in sixteen Counties both races have decreased; in four Counties the whites have decreased and the blacks increased; in two Counties the whites have increased and blacks decreased, there are Marlboro and Sumter.

In the whole State the whites have decreased 16,426, and the blacks have decreased 26,181. The excess of decrease of the blacks over the whites is 9,755.

In 1860 the population of the State was 703,709; in 1870 it is 661,092.

The new apportionment of representation consequent upon this census will

Counties, result of the whole being in four of the Counties where the white voters are in the majority. The total number will be less than in 1860.

THE RURAL CAROLINIAN.—The

March number of this sterling monthly, is, as usual, promptly before us, and fully sustains its reputation. It has several particularly noteworthy papers. "The Preparation of Land for Cotton," signed "Low Midding," which we believe is from the pen of General Johnson Hagood, of Barnwell, contains some most timely suggestions, packed up by the necessary facts and figures. "The Premium Cotton Crop," and "A Method of Planting and Cultivating Cotton," are also worthy of attention in the same connection, and are timely and to the point. Some hints on the "Cultivation of the Castor Bean and Beans" for oil, from the pen of Gen. E. P. Alexander, suggest another means of diversifying our industry. "Poultry Farming for the South," a beautifully illustrated article on the best breeds of Fowls, will be interesting and profitable to all who are fond of eggs and chickens. Articles on Sisal Hemp and the cultivation of the Banana commend themselves particularly to Florida readers. The Editor's "Suggestive Facts" should set our people to thinking. We hope they will heed the warning the article embodies—don't neglect everything else to plant cotton. We are glad to see that the publishers have been fortunate enough to secure contributions from that able architect Alex. Y. Lee, of Columbia, one of whose excellent designs appears in the present number. Charleston S. C., Walker, Evans & Cogswell and D. Wyatt Aiken. Two dollars a year.

MODEL WORKERS.—A farmer in Greenville has two model tenants. One of them, a white man has lived on one of his farms for three years, and now pays more for rent than was produced on the entire place any year previous to the last three years. This man is really industrious, and although he has a family of eight or nine children, has paid, beside his current domestic expenses, a good portion of a debt for money advanced him by his landlord.

The other, a colored man, named Daniel Seaborn, has been on the farm three years or more, starting with about bread enough for one year, and two small pigs. At this time, according to the Greenville Enterprise, he has as much bacon as he needs; has bought and paid for two fine milch cows; has a fine lot of stock hogs; has a good farm horse, worth $150, upon which he owes $95; has plenty of flour for breakfast during the year; has corn in abundance for bread and stock, also fodder, and some to spare; has eighteen acres of wheat, put in with his own seed, two-thirds of which proceeds will be his own; has a half interest in five bales of cotton, weighing from 440 to 500 pounds.

These are model workers—models worthy of imitation. And it must be remembered that these men had no land commission to help them, and had no labor commissioner to meddle with their affairs. They went manfully to work; and they made money. Work! work! work! was the sole secret of their success.

HOUSED.—A young man, J. W. Touey, from Orangeburg, S. C., was arrested yesterday morning, by the police, for violation of the 18th section. After his arrest, being under the influence of numerous potations of benzene, he was searched and $51 found on his person. It was reported that early in the morning this young man had cash assets of $300, of which he expended $75 in the purchase of a horse, and it was supposed possibly that his exchequer had been fingered by some sharper. A young man, E. C. Reardon, of Graniteville, accompanying Touey as a friend, exhibiting some suspicious behaviour in a private and prolonged conference with the latter, was detained by the Chief of Police until further explanation is made this morning. —Augusta Constitutionalist.

GOLD.—There appears to be a general impression among the financiers in Congress that the recent sudden and continued decline in the price of gold is by no means permanent, and that although it may fall to 110, yet it will for some time fluctuate between that figure and 120. The probabilities are, however, that it will not rise above the last named figure. The question of the resumption of specie payments has not received any additional consideration among the Treasury officials or in the Cabinet on account of the decline, and it is understood that Secretary Boutwell is not favorable to any Congressional legislation looking to resumption, believing that in a comparatively short time the banks will settle the question without any interference by the Government.

Queen Victoria is the richest widow in the world. She has an income that is large enough to render any man happy under domestic ties. Her allowance from the British Government is £85,000, to which must be added £25,000 from the Duchy of Lancaster, making a total of £110,000 per annum, besides at least a dozen rent-free castles, palaces and mansions. As she accepted a legacy of £250,000 from Mr. Neill (who passed over his own relations to enrich her), so she inherited £100,000 from Prince Albert in 1861, and as she has not spent a third of her allowance since his death, it is estimated that her Majesty's cash capital will amount in at least £2,000,000.

The Richmond Enquirer says that the Virginians are likely to become the greatest swarms on the globe. There are so many oaths required of the officials before they enter on the duties of their office that it has become necessary for the Government to call the attention of the Legislature to the subject, and to invite at their hands a declaratory act defining particularly how much the officers of the Government must swear to. They have seven oaths to take already, and they don't know how many will be imposed upon them in the future.

A RESULT.—There was a result from the recent very well conducted Woman Suffrage Convention held in Vermont. A small boy was found in tears and trouble in Main street of the city where the Convention was assembled. "What's the matter?" asked a sympathizing and curious passer-by. Rubbing his eyes vigorously with both fists, after the manner of small boys, he blubbered out: "My mother's gone to the woman's town meeting, and didn't leave me out nothing to eat."

A reconstructed African at Washington, arrested for stealing, was upbraided by the magistrate. "I thought, Sam, you belonged to the royal party; that on its good behaviour, you know 'Dat's so, massa, we's two classes—de high and de low. De high takes what's giv' to 'em, like Massa Grant; de low takes what's not giv' to 'em, like Massa Butler. I as a low, massa, dat's all."

The Wilcox, Gibbs & Co's Manipulated Guano more reliable than any other.

According to my experiments this year the Wilcox, Gibbs & Co's Manipulated Guano is my choice, from the fact that it is more applicable to any and all kinds of land than any other I know. Some of my neighbors have used pure Peruvian, some Soluble Pacific, and various others. They tell me that mine surpasses theirs. I believe the Peruvian is better than any other where the land is low and moist, but to take land generally that is rich or poor, moist or thirsty, stiff or loose, all together, the Manipulated is more reliable than any other I know. I am confident the manner of applying the manure is to put it deep, especially on thirsty land, and I believe 400 lbs. to the acre is the quantity—less, I know, will pay, as I have tests of it, but 400 lbs. pays better. According to the seasons and chances generally of my cotton up to this time, I do not believe better cotton could be made to grow on the land where I have used the Wilcox, Gibbs & Co's Manipulated Guano.
